

Lottie Perkins, Movie Star

Author: Katrina Nannestad

Illustrator: Makoto Koji

Published by ABC Books

ISBN: 9780733339097

Synopsis:

Charlotte Perkins is seven years old and can't wait to grow up - if only she could decide what she wanted to be! Luckily, no dream is too big for little Lottie Perkins!

Author Bio:

I'm an Australian author. I grew up in country New South Wales in a neighbourhood stuffed full of happy children. My adult years have been spent raising boys, teaching, daydreaming, perfecting my recipe for choc-chip bickies and pursuing my love of stories.

I celebrate family, friendship and belonging in my writing. I also love creating stories that bring joy to other people's lives.

I now live in central Victoria, on the side of a hill (in a house, not just in the long grass!) with my family and an exuberant black whippet called Olive. I hope one day to own a spotted pig called Harold. <https://www.katrinanannestad.com/>

Illustrator Bio

I'm Makoto Koji, a Japanese Illustrator and Animator, born in Hiroshima in the Year of the Rabbit and raised in the wilderness of rural Queensland. My work draws from my unique upbringing of both Eastern and Western sensibilities. I am inspired by fairy tales, animals and all things sweet.

I started my journey at Griffith University in Queensland, where I graduated with Bachelor of Animation, in 2007. For the last eight years, I've worked on many exciting projects for some of Australia's leading Animation Studios and have produced illustration for books, children's toys and editorial.

Alongside these experiences I've been consistently developing my own stories, filled with cute and cheeky characters. Through my brand Paper Rabbits, I hope to share these stories with you all.

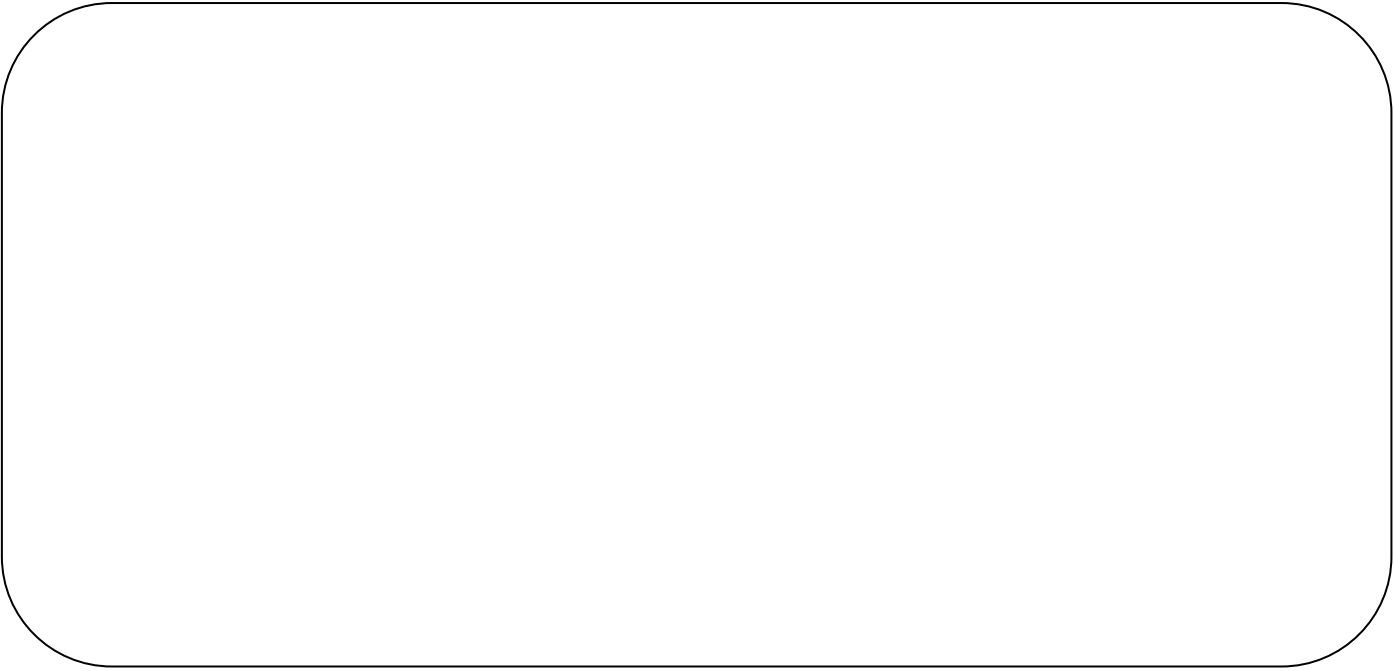

Paper Rabbits studio is currently located on the 4th floor of the charming little Epworth building, in the heart of Adelaide's CBD, surrounded by some of city's best hidden cafes and pastries. <http://www.paperrabbits.com>
