106. River Story (Meredith Hooper and Bee Willey)
The river begins as a clear stream formed high in the mountains from melted snow. It slips over pebbles, skids round rocks and is fed by other streams, smaller and faster. Gradually, the river grows wider as it flows quietly past meadows, under bridges, through cities... until, finally, after sliding slowly through mudflats and marshes, fresh water meets salt water to become part of the sea. Beautifully illustrated by Bee Willey, with a detailed spread at the end charting the key geographical stages of a river's journey. GEOGRAPHY

124. Krakatoa Lighthouse (Allan Baillie)

$17.95 $16.16

The Javanese seaside fishing village of Anjer is warm and fragrant. A constant flow of traders and other visitors from all over the world keeps it prosperous and vibrant. So what could be better than being the twelve-year-old son of Anjer's Javanese lighthouse keeper? But the year is 1883, and the conical-shaped peak on the horizon that has started to rumble and give off smoke is Krakatoa - set to explode. Allan Baillie has based his story on the real-life events of the 1883 eruption of Krakatoa, sticking closely to the facts and chronology, and including real characters among his fictional ones, to create a powerful story of survival, loss and, ultimately, inspirational hope among the ashes. SCIENCE - Earth and Space Sciences - GEOGRAPHY - ENGLISH Literature - ASIA AND AUSTRALIA'S ENGAGEMENT WITH ASIA
